WARNING.

We wish to caution all users of Simmons Liver Regulator on a subject of the deepest interest and importance to their health—perhaps their lives. The sole proprietors and makers of Simmons Liver Regulator have taken care to see that the name of the Regulator is on the package or bottle, that it is not a cheap imitation, but the real Simmons Liver Regulator. No one else makes, or ever has made, a Simmons Liver Regulator, or anything called Simmons Liver Regulator, but J. H. Ziehl & Co., and no medicine made by anyone else is the same. We alone can put it up, and we cannot be responsible, if other medicines represented as the same do not help you as you are led to expect they will. Bear this fact well in mind, if you have been in the habit of using a medicine which you supposed to be Simmons Liver Regulator, because the name was somewhat like it, and the package did not have the word Regulator on it, you have been imposed upon and have not been taking Simmons Liver Regulator at all. The Regulator has been favorably known for many years, and all who use it know how necessary it is for Fever and Ague, Biliousness, Constipation, Headache, Dizziness, and all disorders arising from a Disordered Liver.

We ask you to look for yourselves, and see that Simmons Liver Regulator, which you can readily distinguish by the Red Z on wrapper, and by our name, is the only medicine called Simmons Liver Regulator.

NEEDED REFORMS

Governor Bradley Urges Upon the Kentucky General Assembly Now in Session.

PREVENT MOBS—INCREASE REVENUE

Protect Free Speech, Give Us

Purity in Elections and Establish Houses of Reform for

CHILDREN IN THE PENITENTIARY.

Some of the Principal Reforms

the Governor Asks the Legislators to Accomplish

at Once.

On Saturday, March 13th, the special session of the Kentucky

Legislature convened at the call of

Gov. Bradley, as published in full in THE BEE of last week. The Governor's message urges strongly some much needed reforms which must be accomplished before Kentucky, proud as are her people of her fair name, can hold up her head among her sister commonwealths as a state that enforces her laws, pays her debts and protects her citizens.

Only those parts of the message that seem of greatest import and interest to all the people are here given, but the various heads here set forth are given in full except a portion of what the Governor says about Houses of Reform.

Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives: When the present administration came into power, it was confronted with a large floating debt and an insufficient revenue to pay current expenses.

Your attention was called to this and relief requested at the last session. You were asked to enact laws to abolish unnecessary offices, reduce salaries, curtail expenses, provide necessary revenue, prevent mob violence, but each of these recommendations passed unheeded, the result of which is that the financial credit of the State has suffered seriously, expenses have increased and mob rule has pre-valued to an extent never heretofore known in this Commonwealth.

MOB VIOLENCE.

Since your adjournment a number of citizens of the State have been atrociously murdered by cowardly mobs. In some instances, although guarantees of protection were given, they proved mere ropes of sand, and although courts were in session, and in one instance the defendant on trial, the sanctity of the law was ruthlessly invaded, decency and order outraged and murder committed under pretense of purifying society and punishing crime. No apology or excuse can be made for such conduct. Those who congregate and conspire to take human life are legally greater criminals than those whose lives up to this time, so far as I know, to convict, and have almost universally failed to arrest, any of the murderers and raiders who have thus disgraced the Commonwealth.

This is a sad commentary on our civilization. The power of the Executive to bring these outlaws to justice is narrow and circum-scribed. His only authority, unless he should witness such conduct, accompanied by a failure to protect the citizens by local authority, is to assist county officers in discharging their duty, which in most instances, they have manifested no disposition to perform.

He cannot even offer a reward, for the statute gives authority to take this step only in aggravated cases of murder and other felonies against person. In 1873 a statute was enacted, known as the Kuklux law, in which authority was given to offer a reward for the apprehension of those guilty of such crimes as have been committed by these turnpike raiders. But in 1893, when the Legislature enacted a new chapter of Crimes and Punishments, the provisions as to rewards, among others, was omitted, and the Court of Appeals, some years ago, declared that all portions of the law omitted were repealed. The Executive has, at all times, been ready and willing to the fullest extent, to uphold and assist those whose duty it was to apprehend these criminals of which disposition they were notified.

NO SECRET SERVICE.

Your attention is further directed to the fact that the Governor has no right to make any draft upon the Treasury for the purpose of detecting criminals in a quiet and secret manner, which is, of all others, the most effective.

At your last session you were earnestly asked, in my first official communication, to take steps to prevent and punish mob violence.

Thereafter, another message was sent to you, recommending the enactment of a law making the counties in which such outrages were committed responsible in damages to the legal or personal representative of the victim, and giving change of venue to other counties, in order that a fair trial might be had. The same measures are now recommended, together with such provisions as will make counties liable in cases of personal injury where death does not ensue. Whenever the people of a county know that they will suffer financially by reason of such conduct, it will prove an active incentive to prevent the commission of such crimes.

If Sheriffs, jailers, and other peace officers having prisoners in their custody, or whose duty it is to take them into custody, would do their duty, much of this trouble might be avoided. In order that they may hereafter be more watch-charged for each commission issued to an officer. The tax on deeds and mortgages should be regulated according to the value of the property mortgaged or conveyed, not less than twenty-five cents and not more than two dollars. There is no reason why a mortgage or deed for $100 worth of property should be taxed as much as one for $1,000 worth of property.

It is believed that a carefully constructed bill, along the lines indicated, would produce considerable revenue.

The bonded indebtedness of the State is composed of the following items:

Certificates of indebtedness issued

June 1, 1895, due June 1, 1905, bearing 6 per cent interest per annum, payable semi-annually. $500,000.00

Matured Military Bonds belonging to

A. and M. College. 165,000.00

Old railroad scrip long past due. 394.00

Old thirty-year issue (1858), past due more than thirty years. 5,000.00

Old issue made from 1841 to April,

1845, long past due. 1,000.00

Educational bonds, bearing 6 per cent interest, payable semi-annually not of the Sinking Fund. 8,318,996.86

Total. $14,083,996.86

Hitherto, the educational bonds have not been enumerated as a part of the indebtedness of the State on the ground that they are not redeemable. The fact that they constitute a continuing debt upon which interest is paid and represent that much money due the educational department, which the State borrowed and expended, does not, in my judgment, authorize their omission from the column of indebtedness.

The old bonds mentioned, amounting in the aggregate to $6,394, have been past due for many years, and most probably will never have to be liquidated, and yet they are, in fact, due and should be counted.

The resources of the Sinking Fund are:

Balance of Sinking Fund. $186,800.53

406 shares of stock in Bank of Louisville, valued at. 26,390.00

Turnpike stock valued at. 400,000.00

Total. $1,852,190.53

CAUSE OF DEPRECIATION.

In my judgment, the bank stock should not bring the sum named in open market now, and would not have brought, at any time for several years last past, the valuation fixed. As to the turnpike stock, the agitation for free roads and the shamful conduct of those who have taken the law into their own hands, have caused serious depreciation.

But, assuming the valuation above to be correct, and subtracting the resources named from the bonded indebtedness, we have a balance of that debt amounting to $2,170,739.98.

To this must be added the floating debt, past due, as follows:

Outstanding warrants. $14,503.71

E. limited unadmitted claims. 5,000.00

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

CIRCUIT JUDGE.

MARBLE—We are authorized to announce Hon. William Marble, of Princeton, as a candidate for Circuit Judge in this, the Fourth Judicial District, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

STATE SENATE.

ROBINSON—We are authorized to announce A. Ben T. Robinson as a candidate for State Senator, from the counties of Hopkins and Christian, subject to the action of the Republican party.

BAKER—We are authorized to announce Dr. E. D. Baker, of Madisonville, as a candidate for State Senator, from the counties of Hopkins and Christian, subject to the action of the Republican party.

THE weather forecast for today is cloudy, with probable rains; stationary temperature.

It doesn't pay to be a "calamity howler." It aids digestion and will help your business to look at the bright side of things.

THE only matter of regret about the prize fight authorized by law in Nevada is that each contestant could not knock the other permanently, and put an end to the beastly business.

THE dispatches say Pope Leo has written a personal letter to the Queen Regent of Spain interceding for the Cubans, and it is thought that the letter may have considerable effect against Spain throughout Europe.

PRESS and Printer says that man who stops taking a newspaper without paying his subscription in full is rarely encountered in the higher walks of life. His place is with the creeping things of earth, and there he is usually found.

PRESIDENT MCKINLEY's first message to Congress has been transmitted. It is brief and devoted entirely to the necessity of financial relief, the question of greatest import to these United States, with a depleted treasury.

THE Populists, in their convention resolutions, were almost as salty to their recent "when-wanted-pie" allies, the silver Democrats, as the latter were to their brother "gold-bug" Democrats during the unpleasantness of 1896.

A DISPATCH says that at the Democratic primaries held in Prairie Town, Ill., a strong resolution was adopted, changing the name of the party from Democratic to "Free Silver, 16 to 1," and the official ballots will be so printed. That was well and honestly done. Why not have a name truly indicative of the principles represented?

ON April 27, the seventy-fifth anniversary of the birth of Ulysses S. Grant, the splendid mausoleum of the dead General at Riverside Park, New York, will be dedicated. It is nearly twelve years since General Grant died. The new tomb has been erected at a cost of $600,000, directly in front of the temporary brick tomb in which General Grant's remains were buried.

No little amusement is being had at the expense of ex-Senator John J. Ingalls in his new role of sporting reporter of the Carson City prize fight. Mr. Ingalls says he is working for an honest living and winds up with this crack at Kansas craziness:

The administration of President McKinley will have my active and cordial support and when the next occasion comes, I shall omit no effort to secure Republican ascendancy in Kansas and the redemption of the State from imbecile misrule and degradation.

Toll-Gate Raiders.

The outages of turnpike raiders, the species of outlaws which is the natural outcome of the incendiary rantings of Popocratic demagogues against capital, corporations, and all investments of the character necessary for the development of the vast resources of a great country, during the late campaign, these outrages, oft repeated, are culminating now in the attempt to take human life. One gate keeper was shot, perhaps fatally, while trying to save his house from the torch that had been applied by the raiders. Two other toll-houses were saturated with oil and burned. The Governor has taken prompt action and offered reward in these cases, but as he sets forth in his message published in part in THE BEE, our laws do not provide the necessary relief from such conditions as now exist.

A missionary corps should be organized for work in Kentucky and they should begin work on those demagogues, who, for fear of losing their ascendancy as leaders, continually stoop to stir up the worst passions of the people and thus boost themselves into office—"their meat, their drink and their respectability."

The Inspector's Report.

Elsewhere we publish a resume of State Mine Inspector Norwood's report for 1896, which has just been completed. The report is full of interest to coal miner and operator. And not the least important fact developed is that the record of fatal accidents has, under Mr. Norwood's careful supervision, shown a steady improvement, and that the record for 1897 is the best ever made—tonnage of coal produced and number of persons employed being considered. Of course our county of Hopkins retains her supremacy as the greatest coal producer in the State, holding her past record of producing almost one-fourth the entire State's output. While county comes next, producing a little over one-half as much bituminous coal as Hopkins, and some cannel.

The slight decrease of 1896 output compared with that of 1895, is in no way surprising. The wonder is that with such general demoralization to all business the decrease was not much greater.

The decided drop in the average selling price per ton is indicative of the very small profit to operators and in many instances reduced wages to miners.

The work to miners employed has been slightly better than in 1895, for the reason that fewer men have been employed and a larger number of days worked.

Wild Theories, and Dishonest Methods.

Statistics show that the population of Kansas is on the decrease, while insanity is on the increase. Since 1890, the population has dropped off 6 per cent, while there has been an increase of 41 per cent in the number of insane persons in the State asylum, and all who have been legally declared insane are not included in the calculation. The superintendent of the insane asylum says that financial agitation and discussion which has been going on in the State for several years is in a great degree responsible for the increase of insanity. Populism has much to answer for. The State laws against railroads and other corporations have not only ruined their earning capacity but have diverted capital to other fields. The repudiation of incurred debts by legal decision through the declaration of unconstitutionality of statutes which authorized the issue of bonds for road improvement, has left Eastern parties upon whom they were foisted with thousands of dollars of worthless paper, while the public, the abutting land owners and the counties enjoy the good roads for which they have never paid. Kansas securities are a stench in the nostrils of safe investors, and the legislation proposed by the sitting solons has a tendency to repel instead of attract immigration. In this connection, J. H. Davis writes very sensibly, as follows:

"If a corporation is to be restrained by law from profits over and above a given percentage upon the capital originally invested, there is no good reason why Smith, Robinson and Jones should not be equally restricted. If Smith bought real estate on Broadway sixty years ago for $50,000, and gets more than $3,000,000 income from it now let the surplus be confiscated. If Jones started a cotton mill with $100,000 a quarter of a century ago and has managed it with so much ability that it is fairly worth $500,000 now, put a legislative committee to work on his books, and then compel him to sell his goods so low that he cannot clear over $6,000 per year. If Robinson started a newspaper and worked its circulation and advertising up until it gives an income of half a million or a million dollars per year, let the law fix his advertising rates at one-tenth of what they now are, and declare that his paper shall be given away for nothing, because he is making too much money. Let us regulate the commerce of the world by law; declare that railway fare from the Atlantic to the Pacific shall not be more than $10; that a steam engine shall not be sold for more than five per cent above the actual cost of materials and labor; that Tiffany's customers shall decide the selling price of his wares; that if an eminent surgeon is called from New York to Chicago to perform a dangerous operation, his fee shall be limited by the law of Illinois; that the price of a piece of land and a piece of cloth shall be fixed by a legislative committee; that thrift shall be smothered, wealth taxed out of existence, capital chained, industry discouraged and enterprise killed."

Then there will be an end of manufacturing and trading, and the principal employment of the army of artisans and laborers will consist of a vain and hungry search for work.

FRANKFORT NEWS.

Beginning of the Special Session.

Work of the Caucus—Death of Senator Salyer.

DOCTOR HUNTER THE CAUCUS NOMINEE.

Special correspondence to THE BEE.

Frankfort, Ky., March 16, 1897.—The Republican caucus on Friday evening was a very tame affair, altogether harmonious gathering. The exclusion of all but members, was accepted by outsiders as an indication of stormy scenes to follow. The naming of Hunter, Holt, Yerkes and Lewis as candidates for the nomination occupied but a short time and the caucus adjourned till nine o'clock Saturday morning. At that time it took but one ballot to put the name of Dr. Hunter in nomination as the Republican choice for United States Senator. The nomination was made unanimous. The nominee was presented to the convention by Mr. Bailey of the committee of notification in a graceful speech, promising loyalty to the contesting parties and pleading for support and co-operation of their friends, so as to ensure the speedy election of the successful contestant.

Dr. Hunter made a brief address of thanks for the honor conferred and expressed the friendly feelings for those who had supported his opponents and declared that he had never uttered an unkind word against any member. Judge Holt was called for and made a ringing plea for united action and was followed by Hon. J. W. Lewis in the same vein. Representative Burnham vouches for the loyal support of the friends of St. John Boyle who was unavoidably absent, and all the adverse forces seemed by their announcements of fealty to be closing up the ranks prepared to push forward to a speedy victory. The decision of Lieutenant Governor Worthington that this is a new and not a continuation of last session, and therefore balloting for Senator cannot begin till the second Tuesday, although controverted by many, seems to have been acquiesced in.

The election of Dr. Hunter to the Senate of the United States on next Tuesday seems to be a foregone conclusion. Yet there are all sorts of sensational rumors in circulation. The friends of Governor Bradley are said to have formed an alliance with the silverites, sound money Democrats and disgruntled Republicans to elect him Senator instead of Hunter. There is no likelihood of this being consummated. The Governor would lend himself to no such scheme which would immediately hand over the reins of State government to the silver Democrats. The sound money Democrats would not grasp at a shadow when sure, by doing so, of losing the substance. The most implacable foe of Dr. Hunter who desired his defeat would scorn to accomplish it by such means. Everything now points to harmonious action in Republican ranks.

The sudden death of Senator Salyer which occurred at his home last Sunday cast a gloom over the proceedings of the two Houses. Mr. Bailey, after paying an eloquent tribute to the character of the deceased, offered resolutions of condolence to be spread upon the minutes of the House, and a copy forwarded to the family, upon the adoption of which the House, upon motion of Mr. Carroll, immediately adjourned. Senator Taylor was a Sound-Money Democrat.

There is not much probability that the absence of Senator Ogilvie, on account of sickness, or the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Salyer will delay the business of the Assembly. No necessity seems to exist for their votes on any important question and it is expected that matters will proceed as usual until their seats are filled.

There seems to be a general desire on the part of the conservative business men of this city to expedite matters and make the session as short as possible. Unnecessary prolongation would certainly be detrimental to Republican interests, as the additional expense would be attributed to them.

D. K. N.

Coal Famine at Enfield, Ill.

Enfield, Ill., March 13.—On account of railroad traffic being so badly impaired by high water, this little city is suffering one of the greatest coal famines ever known here. Shade trees are being cut for fuel, and should weather commence now, suffering among the poorer classes would be fearful.

A Double Killing.

Hopkinsville, March 13.—Henry Lane, a policeman, was shot and instantly killed by Walter Merritt at 9 o'clock to-night. Merritt was standing in the door of Lacey's saloon, where he had been drinking heavily. Officer Lane passed by and Merritt said: "I am not afraid of you," to which Lane replied, "Don't think I'm afraid to run you in."

The officer had his hands in his front pockets and before he realized his danger Merritt had pulled his gun and fired.

The bullet struck Lane over the left eye, penetrating to the brain. The shooting was at such close range that the man's face was powder-buried. Lane fell dead almost instantly.

Officers Cravens and Moorman came running up on hearing the shooting, and started to arrest Merritt. A general firing was begun on both sides, resulting in the killing of Merritt at the hands of Officer Moorman.

Excitement ran high among the citizens over the killing of Lane, and had not Merritt met his death there might have been trouble for him. He was considered a bad man. He was about 25 years old.

FITZ IS NOW CHAMPION.

The Lanky Antipodean Knocks Out the Big American in the Fifteenth Round.

Robert Fitzsimmons, the Australian pugilist, is now the recognized champion of the world, he having defeated James J. Corbett, the former champion, in the fifteenth round, at Carson City, Nev., yesterday. The fight was fast and furious from the start, and the American seemed to be getting the best of it, until the fourteenth round, when the Australian struck him on the neck and in the side. In the next round Corbett lasted only one minute and three seconds, when he was knocked out. Following is a brief account:

The men were called into the ring at 12:10 and instructed to shake hands; Fitzsimmons, however, refused to shake.

In the sixth round Corbett brought first blood.

Up to the tenth round Corbett was getting in seven licks to Fitzsimmons' three or five.

From the tenth to the thirteenth round the blows were equally divided.

Rounds 14 and 15, in which Fitz knocked his opponent out, have been described above.

Fitzsimmons was pounded badly throughout the mill, and blood poured from him. Corbett hit him hard and often in the face, but could not phase him.

The Corbett people claim that foul tactics were used, but we suppose that the decision of the referee will stand.

WALLING WILL HANG.

Gov. Bradley Declines to Interfere and Jackson and Walling Will Hang Together.

Frankfort, March 15.—March 20 is the date Jackson and Walling will hang. The Governor refuses to interfere. His decision is as follows:

"The jury were the judges of the credibility of the witnesses and their verdict should not be disturbed unless flagrantly against the evidence. The Circuit and Appellate Courts have reviewed the case and declined to interfere. I see no reason why I should commute the sentence and therefore decline to do so. WILLIAM O. BRADLEY, Governor of Kentucky."

DOWN IN THE MINES.

Illinois will have seven mine inspectors each of whom has to stand a rigid examination, and we believe all men filling so important a position should first be required to show their knowledge of the duties they are expected to perform.

"Billie" Kelly got his foot caught by the wheel of a car at No. 9 mines yesterday. The injury was a squeeze, in which no bones were broken, but he will be off duty a while.

While our miners here had no representative in the cake walk, there were many of them on hand to partake of the supper and enjoy the fun.

We quote here how a Tennessee paper talks of convict labor in that state and the part it plays in coal producing:

"The coal trade here has been less for the present winter than for many preceding ones. The greatest cause of the light trade is attributable to the warm weather during the winter. Another that has damaged the coal trade is the product produced by the State's coal mines at Brushy Mountain mined by convicts. As long as this policy is continued by the State, so long will the coal trade of this of this place be damaged."

Secretary George C. Atkinson was out again last week hustling for business for the St. Bernard Company, and you can rest assured he generally gets what he goes after.

Superintendent Salmon, of the Crabtree mines, and family spent Sunday with relatives here.

Some fine specimens of a fire clay lately discovered under a vein of coal by the St. Bernard Company, have been forwarded to Louisville to be tested.

One of the miners whom we heard complain of hard times last week had in his possession at the time two jugs of whiskey which we suppose he was taking home to revive his drooping spirits. We know of no better way to bring on the condition of affairs he complained of than to follow in his footsteps and such a class deserve no sympathy from any one.

Judging from the heated conversations that take place between our miners while standing on the corners, they are taking quite an interest in the fight to come off soon at Carson City with Corbett and Fitzsimmons as principals.

Secretary Anderson, of the Monarch Coal Co., was down to attend the cake walk and supper last Thursday and he certainly enjoyed himself.

POPULISTS CONDEMN

"The Action of the Leaders of the Democratic Party in Hopkins County."

DENOMINATED SELFISH OFFICE-SEEKERS

Candidates Nominated for County Judge, Representative, Assessor and Jailor.

The Populists of Hopkins county met in convention at Madisonville, Monday in accordance to the call of Chairman Davenport. The official proceedings were as follows:

The People's Party of Hopkins county in mass convention assembled March 15, 1897, in the circuit court room, Madisonville, Ky., was called to order by Chairman Davenport, and proceeded to organize by electing Y. W. Gentry, Chairman and A. P. Hanner, Secretary.

On motion a committee was appointed on Resolutions, composed of J. A. Davenport, Thomas Dame and J. C. Loran.

While committee was out deliberating we had an able speech by Eld. William Banks.

The following is the report of the Committee on Resolutions:

The people's party of Hopkins county, in mass convention assembled do hereby endorse the action of the State committee in the bold and independent stand it takes in behalf of finance reform and other needed reforms as well, and do most severely condemn and condemn the action of the leaders of the Democratic party in Hopkins county in preventing and hindering the will of the people from being exercised in bringing about a union of finance reform and free coinage forces of whatever political faith they may be, to the selfish end that the Democratic office seekers may be able to fill their pockets with the emoluments of office regardless of the wish or will of the rank and file of the people.

And whereas, we the People's party of Hopkins county, did on January 7, 1897, in reply to a request made of us by prominent Democrats of said county, state conditions upon which we would join hands with them in Hopkins county and this judicial district, viz.: That we would nominate men from our own ranks and do so in our own way for the four offices of representative, assessor, county judge and jailor, and further we stated to them that looking to a more perfect union of finance reform and free coinage forces that there shall be a new device adopted for the year 1897, which implied a willingness on our part to discard our device, but notwithstanding our liberality as offered in order to effect that the more perfect union of all free silver forces to the end that the whole people might have more money and less misery, our conditions as submitted were rejected in toto; now therefore be it

Resolved, That we the People's party of Hopkins county in mass convention assembled do reaffirm our allegiance to the People's party of the United States as the only real reform party that exists in America; and therefore be it

Resolved, That we hereby most earnestly, candidly and honestly extend to one and all regardless of political affiliations heretofore held, a most cordial invitation to come and take their stand with us and help us to administer to those Democratic leaders of Hopkins county, that rebuke they so richly deserve. And in order that the selfishness of a few office-seeking individuals shall not override the interests and real will of the masses, be it

Resolved, That we adopt as one of our cardinal principles by which we shall be governed in selecting candidates for any and all offices, that the offices shall seek the man and not the man the office.

Resolved, That we nominate candidates for the offices above mentioned, and make use of all fair means in our power to secure their election, and that we favor the union of the bimetallic forces on a satisfactory basis.

On motion Chairman Davenport was chosen to represent Hopkins county in the State Convention, April 9, 1897, and is hereby authorized to cast the entire vote of Hopkins county in all proceedings that may come up for consideration; with Elder Wm. Banks as alternate.

On motion the convention proceeded to make nominations for the four offices set forth in resolutions.

The ballot was taken and resulted in the choice of the following named parties for said offices:

For County Judge—H. R. Boardland.

For Representative—W. A. O'Brien.

For Assessor—W. D. Crow.

For Jailor—J. A. Davenport.

On motion the Committee was authorized to fill any vacancy that may occur in these nominations.

On motion it was requested that the Twice-a-Week Mail and the Hustler publish these proceedings and all reform papers please copy.

Poor Blood

When a horse is poor in flesh, a new harness won't give him strength. If a house is cold new furniture won't warm it. If your strength is easily exhausted, work a burden; nerves weak; digestion poor; muscles soft; if you are pale and worn out, the trouble is with the blood. It is not so much IMPURE blood as POOR blood. Pills won't make this blood rich; nor will bitters, nor iron tonics, any more than a new harness will give strength to the horse, or new furniture will make a house warm. For poor blood you want something that will make rich blood.

SCOTT'S EMULSION of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites is the best remedy in the world for enriching the blood.

We have prepared a book telling you more about the subject. Sent Free. For sale by all druggists at 50c. & $1.00. SCOTT & BOWNE, New York.

UNTOLD MISERY

FROM RHEUMATISM

C. H. King, Water Valley, Miss., cured by Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For five years, I suffered untold misery from muscular rheumatism. I tried every known remedy, consulted the best physicians, visited Hot Springs, Ark., three times, spending $1000 there, besides doctors' bills; but could obtain only temporary relief. My flesh was wasted away so that I weighed only ninety-three pounds; my left arm and leg were drawn out of shape, the muscles being twisted up in knots. I was unable to dress myself, except with assistance, and could only hobble about by using a cane. I had no appetite, and was assured, by the doctors, that I could not live. The pains, at times, were so awful, that I could procure relief only by means of hypodermic injections of morphia. I had my limbs bandaged in clay, in sulphur, in poultices; but these gave only temporary relief. After trying everything, and suffering the most awful tortures, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Inside of two months, I was able to walk without a cane. In three months, my limbs began to strengthen, and in the course of a year, I was cured. My weight has increased to 165 pounds, and I am now able to do my full day's work as a railroad blacksmith."

LOCOMOTIVE BLASTS.

Last Monday morning a freight train was wrecked at Springfield, Tenn., while passing over a switch and it reports at hand are reliable it was the work of train wreckers, as a coupling pin was placed between the rail and guard rail, and it was this that threw the cars from the track after the engine and several cars had passed over. A close investigation and look out for the scoundrels will be kept by the railroad company and if found a term of several years in prison will undoubtedly be their fate.

Special Agent Granger is now quite busy trying to locate parties guilty of throwing through coach windows on passenger trains.

When it is now said that the high water this year so far has damaged railroads to the amount of $3,000,000, the prospect for a prosperous year looks gloomy indeed.

Operator T. C. Martin and his brother Will went down to Nashville to hear ex-Candidate Bryan speak and so ardent admirers of him are they that they could not convince them that he does not speak the gospel truth.

It is estimated that the E. & T. H. road has by the late washouts been damaged to the extent of $100,000.

For several days last week traffic was somewhat disturbed by the high water in Illinois and Indiana and its effect could be easily seen on the Henderson division.

Two new cabooses have been received lately for use on this division.

Word received from Mr. Hoskins, formerly a conductor on this road, says that he is now running a train on some Texas road running out of Denison.

We understand that Wm. Devney will soon take a run on 91 and 92 instead of 116 Providence run he is now on.

A lady passenger came near being struck by a rock thrown into a sleeping car at near Springfield, Tenn., last Sunday night.

Curtis Lane is now a full-fledged conductor, and we are getting along nicely.

Walter Wright and wife were called to Henderson Tuesday to attend the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. Ward, who died quite suddenly.

The L. and N. officials will probably put on a Sunday train from Elktion to Guthrie to make one round trip. This will give the Elktion folks their Sunday mail, the comforts of which they know little about.

Bill's in Trouble.

I've got a letter, parson, from my son away out West.

An' my ol' heart is heavy as an anvil in my breast,

To think the boy whose future I had once so nobly planned

Should wander from the path o' right an' come to such an end!

I told him when he left us only three short years ago,

He'd find himself a plowin' in a mighty crooked row.

He'd miss his father's counsels, an' his mother's prayers too,

But he said the farm was hateful, an' he guessed he'd have to go.

I know there's big temptation for a youngster in the West,

But I believed our Billy had the courage to resist,

An' when he left I warned him o' the ever-waitin' snares

That lie hidden sarpsins in life's path way everywhere.

But Bill he promised faithful to be keeful, an' allowed

He'd build a reputation that'd make us mighty proud,

But it seems as how my counsel sort o' faded from his mind,

An' now the boy's in trouble o' the very worstest kind!

His letters came so seldom that I somehow sort o' knowed

That Billy was a trampin' on a mighty rocky road,

But never once imagined he would bow my head in shame,

An' in the dust 'd waller his ol' daddy's honored name.

He writes from out in Denver, an' the story's mighty short;

I just can't tell his mother; it'll crush her poor old heart!

An' so I reckoned, Parson, you might break the news to her—

Bill's in the Legislatur', but he doesn't say what for.

Earlington Happenings.

News Notes—Personal Paragraphs and Other Doings at Home Worthy of Special Mention.

Miss Lottie Ashby is visiting relatives here.

Mrs. T. J. McEuen has returned from Evansville.

John Victory has been announced as candidate for County Clerk.

Mrs. S. E. Stevens is visiting relatives in Henderson county.

BORN—to Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Burden on Monday March 8th, a boy.

Dr. G. B. Fayne, formerly of this place, has taken up his abode in Uniontown.

Misses Janette McGary and Lucile Crenshaw visited relatives in Hopkinsville this week.

Rev. E. B. Timmons and little daughter, of Hickory Grove, spent Monday night in Earlington with Rev. C. C. Hall.

Mrs. W. P. Ross, Mrs. Dudley O'Connor and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Orr, of Madisonville, attended the cake walk last Thursday evening.

F. E. McGary is now located in Sturgis with his father renovating outfit. He called on THE BEE Monday and reports business fair.

Word has just been received that Rev. R. V. Omer will preach at the Christian Church in this place on Sunday and Sunday night.

THE BEE's job department is full of business and the work done is the kind that demands and obtains a second glance. That's the kind we do.

St. Patrick's day was lively here with enthusiasm about the prize fight, and the result came all too soon for those who were greatly interested in hearing the story in detail.

The Kentucky Grand Commandery of the United Order of the Golden Cross meets in Madisonville, in the second week in April. More extensive announcement will be made later on.

The W. C. T. U. of this broad land are very highly pleased by the indications that amount almost to certainty that no wine will be served at the White House during this Administration.

E. J. Umstead has joined the League of American Wheelmen and is already the full fledged Local Consul for Earlington and vicinity. We may expect the League here to grow for he is an enthusiastic wheelman.

Woodson Browning is at Market this week laying in further additions to Bishop & Co.'s already fine stock of new spring and summer goods. Their advertisement in THE BEE will announce these goods from week to week.

Mr. James R. Rash, of this place, Mr. M. Cain, of Mortons Gap, and Mr. J. V. McEuen, of St. Charles, are in Louisville this week buying goods for the stores of the St. Bernard Coal Co. Mrs. Cain accompanied her husband. Miss Phronia Murphy also joined the party.

Mrs. Dennis Berrigan who is very ill and not expected to recover seems gradually getting weaker. There seems to be scarce a hope for her improvement, and her host of friends, for they are very many, are prepared to hear the worst and last sad news of her death.

There are two reasonable things which everybody should do, take good care of one's health, and if lost, regain it quickly, and to this everybody will agree. And there are a great multitude of people who are agreed that for both purposes Simon's Liver Regulator is the best helper. "I am troubled with torpid liver and nothing gives relief so quick like Simon's Liver Regulator."—R. R. Strange, Lake City, Fla.

A Great Success.

The Supper and Cake Walk given by the ladies of the W. C. T. U. last Thursday evening was an entire success. The supper was eaten, to the last plateful, and more asked for by those who came after. Although the preparations were bounteous, the patronage was beyond expectations and there were others who could not be fed. The patrons were on hand early and the ladies began serving supper quite as early as advertised, 5:30. After that it was a question as to who should get the next vacancy at the table.

The museum, presided over by Miss Minnie Bourland, who explained all the mysteries to those who could not see the point, was also well patronized—especially after Nick Tombs appeared in the negro minstrel role of crier at the door of the hall of mysteries. Nick was very genial and accommodating, as is his wont. He said he was a drummer and had all kinds of cheek, and of course he would get into his cake-walk togs and cry for the museum. The friendly traveling man was in evidence. Guy Hatfield was the successful bidder for the prize cake at the close of the entertainment, and he invited all the principals in the affair to the hotel, where the cake was cut and the gayeties of the evening crowned with good will.

Interest was intense in the performances of the "walkers"; their costumes, their imitable walks, their antics in the representation of a corn field, Virginia reel, all called forth the most hearty applause from the packed house. There were cries of "Number 81," "Number 13," "Number 61," "Number 7," "Number 1" etc., etc., and the "walkers" walked and put on their best and most thorough "airs," doing their work heartily and with much spirit.

The judges announced through "Squire Jim Head, in a graceful manner, that the decision was that the prize should go to "Number 81," provided about two-thirds of the cake should go to the lady. The lady in question was Miss Effie Stevens whose every motion and look was thoroughly that of a cornfield darkey. The gentleman was Mr. T. C. Martin.

Financially, the affair was a success too. The total receipts were a few cents under sixty dollars, and the net proceeds something over thirty-seven dollars.

A Remarkable Undertaking.

THE BEE acknowledges the receipt from friend Walter McGary of a copy of the first issue of "Norna, A Circuit of the World—Illustrated." It is a beautifully illustrated portfolio, containing nine handsome plates of views in the city of New York. It is the preliminary to the story of the wanderings of the yacht Norna and her crew through the waters of every clime, and the scheme contemplates the monthly issue of this publication with handsome pictures and descriptions of the unusual places they will visit.

Walter's friend, Alfred H. Danforth, a young and wealthy New York man, is one of the projectors of this scheme and goes with the Norna. By the way, Mr. Danforth came to Kentucky the other week for the express purpose of visiting the Kentucky girl, whose home is in Providence.

Ed Robinson, Roadmaster.

A letter announces that our former townsman, Mr. Ed F. Robinson, has accepted a position as Roadmaster with the Indiana and Illinois Southern Railway Company, and began his new duties Monday. His address is now Sullivan, Ind. Mr. Robinson has been located at Mattoon in the engineering department of the "Big Four."

Mack Stanley's Loss.

Mack Stanley, living about three and a half miles east of Earlington had a sad misfortune last Friday. He was some distance from the house when he discovered it in flames and scarcely anything was saved. It was a good comfortable home and the loss of the value of about $500 is a severe blow. It is understood that one of Mr. Stanley's little children caused the fire.

Our First Lawyer.

Mr. Jerrold A. Jonson, who comes to us from Greenville, with the best endorsements from Judge Charles Eaves, of that place, has cast his lot with us as Attorney-at-law. Mr. Jonson is the first lawyer to locate in Earlington within our knowledge, and in our peaceable community there has been little reason for legal services. We welcome Mr. Jonson as a worthy young man, yet trust that his prosperity may not come out of any increase of strife among our people.

Your Intelligence.

Your intelligence is questioned by the druggist who tries to influence you to let him bottle anything for you when you ask for Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. No druggist can put this up for you—he cannot put anything like it—it is not to be had in bulk—it is to be had only in 25c, 50c and $1 bottles. There is nothing "just as good" as Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. Avoid those substitutes with similar sounding names. When you buy Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey see that the bottle has never been opened and that it bears the picture and testimony of "Good Old Granny Metcalf," and the name of the E. Sutherland Medicine Company, Fountain Park, Paducah, Ky.

Spring Opening.

Elsewhere will be found a handsome advertisement of J. T. Alexander's big stock of Dress Goods, Black Goods, Trimmings, Clothing, Shoes, Mattings, etc., etc. Mr. Alexander has just returned from market and brings with him a splendid assortment of handsome goods which he is selling at prices competition cannot beat. See his great stock.

HAD TO SHOOT.

To Save the Life of a Clerk in a Morton's Gap Store, the Negro Porter Uses a Pistol.

TWO SLIGHT WOUNDS INFLICTED.

Yesterday morning, Dave Stramler, a colored man in the employ of the Hecla Coal Company of this place went into the store of the St. Bernard Coal Company at Mortons Gap, and, going behind the counter, swore he would take what pleased him, especially in the shoe line. Persuasion was unavailing and when Mr. D. D. Davis took hold of him to assist him out, Stramler grappled him, and, taking a rock from his pocket, struck violently at Mr. Davis' head. His blow overreached or the result might have been fatal. However, Stramler's wrist came down on the back of Mr. Davis' head with such force that he was felled to the floor. Stramler regained possession of the rock—in his hands a dangerous weapon—and grappled Mr. Davis again as he arose. In the midst of the struggle, Kenzie Stanley, the colored porter, came to Mr. Davis' rescue from the rear of the store, and fired three shots from a revolver, two of which took effect in the body of Stramler, who then tried to escape, but was captured. The wounds are not serious, one in the hand and another in the muscles of the leg.

Mr. Henry G. Morton was the first to see Stramler. Mr. Morton discovered that Stramler was toward the front of the store and behind the counter. He walked forward and asked the negro if he wanted anything, and told him if he wanted shoes and would step around in front of the counter he would show him the shoes, putting his hand on Stramler's arm at the same time. Stramler, with his hand in his pocket, jerked loose from Mr. Morton and swearing he would take what he liked, remained behind the counter. Mr. Will Kimmons came from his office in the rear and tried his powers of persuasion. Neither of these gentlemen are men of muscle and, to be discreet, one went for the city marshal and the other for the porter. It was just here that Mr. Davis came upon the scene and was attacked by Stramler with the result as stated.

Magazine Club.

The "Ladies Magazine Club" was pleasantly entertained by Mrs. Wm. Jackson last Thursday afternoon. Miss Hester reviewed "The Ladies Magazine Club." Mrs. J. H. Feland had chosen the same subject. Mrs. Feland read "A Woman" from Scribners.

A number of members were absent on account of sickness. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. W. C. Morton in Madisonville, Thursday March 25, at 2 p. m. Mrs. Will Feland and Mrs. Paul M. Moore will lead and Mrs. Wendel will read a selection.

Easter Sunday.

Easter this year comes late, April 18. Indeed, it can never come but seven days later, April 25, and the earliest it can come is March 22. Easter is always the first Sunday after the first full moon at or after the vernal equinox, which is the beginning of the ecclesiastical year. In 1886, Easter fell on April 16, which it will not do again until 1913, while as to the earliest date, March 22, it will not fall on that either in this or the next century.

Interested.

THE BEE's religious department, begun last week, is receiving the hearty approval anticipated and will be continued, of course, as a regular feature. The Sunday School lesson and Christian Endeavor topic will be given liberal space each week, as well as notes of local church society affairs and items of general interest.

"Not Exactly Right."

Thousands of people are in this condition. They are not sick and yet they are by no means well. A single bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla would do them a world of good. It would tone the stomach, create an appetite, purify and enrich the blood and give wonderful vigor and vitality. Now is the time to take it.

The South Kansas Methodist Conference.

declared itself by a vote of 75 to 21 in favor of admitting women to the general conference.

Did You Ever

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh Throat Contain Mercury.

As mercury will certainly destroy the sense of smell, and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, O., by F. J. Cheney & Co.

The demand for Ayer's Hair Vigor in such widely-separated regions as South America, Spain, Australia, and India has kept pace with the home consumption, which goes to show that these people know a good thing when they try it.

REV. M. C. ALERIDGE.

A Forceful and Earnest Preacher Who Attracts Large Audiences at Madisonville.

Rev. M. C. Aleridge, the evangelist, who has been holding a series of meetings at the Cumberland Presbyterian Church in Madisonville, is doing a good work. He is a forceful, earnest and attractive speaker and great crowds flock to hear him so that the church will not begin to accommodate those who wish to avail themselves.

Sunday afternoon he addressed an audience composed of men only assembled in the Methodist Church, when 150 went forward expressing the desire to lead better lives and asking an interest in the prayers of the church. This, in Madisonville, but proves that Rev. Aleridge is no ordinary man.

The difference in men, primarily, is in their mental qualities. This difference may be less in quality than in activity, or energy. A man may be the happy possessor of superior brain power, yet lack that particular element necessary to his greatest utility. Another may be as conspicuous for the want of the former, as for the abundance of the latter, and yet attain greater success, in the eyes of the world, than the intellectual recluse.

New and then there comes along a man possessing a goodly share of each of these qualities, prompted by right motives, who directs his energies in right channels, and even though he may be lacking in that superlativity sometimes denominated culture, that man is a success. It matters not though he may have been a "Male-buyer" plodding along all unconscious of his powers until suddenly awakened to a sense of its presence, and a proper appreciation of his responsibility and opportunity. Education is too often measured by Orthography and Syntax. Measured by these standards, the Lord's Prayer is a failure.

One of the characteristics of the Evangelist is that he impresses his audience with his absolute faith in what he preaches. He places a literal interpretation upon the promises set forth in the Holy Word and accepts them. He possesses the rare gift of taking Christianity out of the realm of the mysterious where it is too often relegated, and placing it in the realm of the practical where it belongs.

People buy Hood's Sarsaparilla year after year because it does them good. It will do you good to take it now.

The formal written statement of Mrs. Rita Ruiz, widow of Dr. Ricardo Ruiz, who was murdered in his cell in Cuba, has been submitted to Secretary Sherman. Americans hope for a satisfactory investigation.

There is Nothing so Good.

There is nothing just as good as Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, so demand it and do not permit the dealer to sell you a one substitute. He will not claim there is anything better, but in order to make more profit he may claim something else to be just as good. You want Dr. King's New Discovery because you know it to be safe and reliable and guaranteed to do good or money refunded. For Coughs, Colds, Consumption and for all affections of Throat, Chest and Lungs, there is nothing so good as Dr. King's New Discovery. Trial bottles free at St. Bernard Drug Store. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00.

The Mississippi has broken the record for high water. Levees have broken, much country is inundated and many lives lost.

The sooner you begin to fight the fire, the more easily it may be extinguished. The sooner you begin taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for your blood-disease, the easier will be the cure. In both cases, delay is dangerous, if not fatal. Be sure you get Ayer's and no other.

Banker M. G. Cape, of Paducah, has confessed to forgery of notes for $13,000 and fled. His bondsmen paid the bill. He has gambled in futures.

A bottle of Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey should be on the medicine shelf of every home. In a sudden attack of croup it is invaluable; allaying the irritation and ending the danger in less time than it would take to go for a doctor. It stands pre-eminent as a remedy for coughs, colds and all kindred diseases.

Howell--White.

Mr. A. R. Howell and Miss Adie M. White were married on Wednesday evening, March 10, 1897, at the residence of the bride's father, west of Earlington.

Rev. M. C. Aleridge, the evangelist, who has been holding a series of meetings at the Cumberland Presbyterian Church in Madisonville, is doing a good work. He is a forceful, earnest and attractive speaker and great crowds flock to hear him so that the church will not begin to accommodate those who wish to avail themselves.

Sunday afternoon he addressed an audience composed of men only assembled in the Methodist Church, when 150 went forward expressing the desire to lead better lives and asking an interest in the prayers of the church. This, in Madisonville, but proves that Rev. Aleridge is no ordinary man.

The difference in men, primarily, is in their mental qualities. This difference may be less in quality than in activity, or energy. A man may be the happy possessor of superior brain power, yet lack that particular element necessary to his greatest utility. Another may be as conspicuous for the want of the former, as for the abundance of the latter, and yet attain greater success, in the eyes of the world, than the intellectual recluse.

New and then there comes along a man possessing a goodly share of each of these qualities, prompted by right motives, who directs his energies in right channels, and even though he may be lacking in that superlativity sometimes denominated culture, that man is a success. It matters not though he may have been a "Male-buyer" plodding along all unconscious of his powers until suddenly awakened to a sense of its presence, and a proper appreciation of his responsibility and opportunity. Education is too often measured by Orthography and Syntax. Measured by these standards, the Lord's Prayer is a failure.

One of the characteristics of the Evangelist is that he impresses his audience with his absolute faith in what he preaches. He places a literal interpretation upon the promises set forth in the Holy Word and accepts them. He possesses the rare gift of taking Christianity out of the realm of the mysterious where it is too often relegated, and placing it in the realm of the practical where it belongs.

People buy Hood's Sarsaparilla year after year because it does them good. It will do you good to take it now.

The formal written statement of Mrs. Rita Ruiz, widow of Dr. Ricardo Ruiz, who was murdered in his cell in Cuba, has been submitted to Secretary Sherman. Americans hope for a satisfactory investigation.

There is Nothing so Good.

There is nothing just as good as Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, so demand it and do not permit the dealer to sell you a one substitute. He will not claim there is anything better, but in order to make more profit he may claim something else to be just as good. You want Dr. King's New Discovery because you know it to be safe and reliable and guaranteed to do good or money refunded. For Coughs, Colds, Consumption and for all affections of Throat, Chest and Lungs, there is nothing so good as Dr. King's New Discovery. Trial bottles free at St. Bernard Drug Store. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00.

The Mississippi has broken the record for high water. Levees have broken, much country is inundated and many lives lost.

The sooner you begin to fight the fire, the more easily it may be extinguished. The sooner you begin taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for your blood-disease, the easier will be the cure. In both cases, delay is dangerous, if not fatal. Be sure you get Ayer's and no other.

Banker M. G. Cape, of Paducah, has confessed to forgery of notes for $13,000 and fled. His bondsmen paid the bill. He has gambled in futures.

A bottle of Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey should be on the medicine shelf of every home. In a sudden attack of croup it is invaluable; allaying the irritation and ending the danger in less time than it would take to go for a doctor. It stands pre-eminent as a remedy for coughs, colds and all kindred diseases.

LESSON XII, FIRST QUARTER, INTERNATIONAL SERIES, MARCH 21.

Text of the Lesson, I Cor. ix, 19-27—Memory Verses, 25-27—Golden Text, I Cor. ix, 25—Commentary by the Rev. D. M. Stearns.

19. "For, though I be free from all men, yet have I made myself servant unto all, that I might gain the more." For the sake of a temperance lesson we turn from the narrative in the Acts to a section of this epistle, but it is a temperance lesson in the sense of every form of restraint and control of the self life that the Christ life may be made more manifest, and thus the gospel be lived more fully in the world. The section in which we find our lesson begins with chapter viii, 1, and runs to the end of chapter ix, 18. The language is so direct and so plain that it is almost impossible to be misunderstood. The section in which we find our lesson begins with chapter viii, 1, and runs to the end of chapter ix, 18. The language is so direct and so plain that it is almost impossible to be misunderstood.

20. "Unto the Jews I became as a Jew that I might gain the Jews." We must think of Paul as a servant of Christ, a member of the body of Christ in perfect faith and health, under full and complete control of Christ, the head, and ever seeking in all things to please Him (chapters ii, 5; xii, 13; Gal. i, 10; I Thess. ii, 4). He had a great desire that Christ should be magnified in his body whether by life or by death (Phil. i, 20). We must keep this in mind in considering this and the next two verses, lest we be tempted to think Paul guilty of some inconsistency or of conniving at a wrong thing in order to win men to Christ. He was a Jew and knew what it was to be under the law. In dealing with such he would, as far as he conscientiously could, put himself in their place and from their standpoint lead them to Christ.

21. "To them that are without law, as without law, that I might gain them that are without law." He often speaks of himself as "them that are without." He would have believers exercise special care in walking honestly toward them so as to win them. As far as Paul could in the sight of God, he put himself in their place, as things with their eyes and from their standpoint sought to lead them to Christ that they might be saved.

22. "To the weak I became weak, that I might gain the weak." I am made all things to all men that I might by all means save some. In Rom. x, 1-3, he takes as he always does, Christ for his example and teaches us not to please ourselves, but others, and to bear the infirmities of the weak, and this even in the common sense of eating and drinking as the context shows. There is a self centered life and a Christ centered life, and though strange it is yet true, sadly true, that the former is often manifest in believers to the great grief of the Spirit and dishonor of God. Paul, like his Master, thought not of himself, but of how he could glorify Christ and win people to Him.

23. "And this I do for the gospel's sake, that I might partake thereof with you." What is it which, as a servant of Christ, he is aiming to be a partaker of? It cannot be eternal life, the gift of God, nor the forgiveness of sins, nor peace with God, nor justification, nor sanctification, for all these come to us in Christ from the virtue of His finished work. See Rom. iii, 24; v, 1; vii, 1; I Cor. ii, 21-23; vi, 11. We do not work for redemption and its benefits; but, receiving Christ as God's unpayable gift to us, we believe that His divine power bringeth unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness (II Pet. i, 3). Being a saved man through the blood of Christ, Paul knows that the denial of self in preaching the gospel will bring him a reward (I Cor. ix, 17). He wishes the believers at Corinth to share this with him.

24. "Know ye not that they which run in a race run all, but one receiveth the prize. So run that ye may obtain." Now, salvation is not obtained by running, for we cannot run till we have obtained salvation. Until we are saved, we are in the race, and we must first obtain, by the virtue of His finished work, and the entrance is at the cross. The fee is paid for all who are willing to enter, for the blood of Christ cleanseth from all unrighteousness (I John i, 7).

25. "And every man that striveth for the mastery is temperate in all things. Now they do it to obtain a corruptible crown, but we an incorruptible." The reward, the honor associated with the victor in the Grecian games soon faded or passed away, but the Christian who endures to the end, shall receive the crown of life (Rev. ii, 10). That there are rewards for the faithful in addition to salvation, which is the free gift of God, and that it is possible to be rewarded or to be saved and have no reward. See I Cor. iii, 14; II John vii; Rev. xxi, 12; Luke xiv, 14.

26. "If therefore so run, not as uncertainly, so fight I, not as one that beateth the air." In an ordinary race there is no uncertainty as to who shall win, and only one can possibly win the prize. In the Christian race there shall be no uncertainty, for Christ Himself will be the Judge, and He will reward every one according to his works. All who will serve and be rewarded for service—the crown of life for patient endurance, the crown of our lesson for denial of self, etc. (I Jas. i, 12; Rev. ii, 10; I Thess. ii, 19; I Pet. i, 4; II Tim. ii, 8).

27. "But I keep under my body and bring it into subjection, lest that by any means when I have preached to others, I myself should be cast away." Not a lost soul, for none of Christ's sheep can perish (John x, 28, 29), but disapproved as to service. See I V. Paul never questioned, nor ever taught others to question, the eternal safety of every true believer (Phil. i, 6; II Tim. i, 12; Eph. v, 25-27; Jude xiv). But he kept strongly emphasizing the possibility of the loss of service and the necessity of a whole hearted denial and renunciation of the self life (Gal. ii, 20; vi, 14; I Cor. ix, 10, 11; Rom. xii, 13).

THE CHURCH AND CONGREGATION.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic for the Week Beginning March 21.

Comment by Rev. F. M. Goodchild.

Topic—How our bodies influence our souls.

—Dan. i, 8:21. (A temperance topic.)

The human body is too much neglected, from the standpoint of religion and of Christianity. Its importance is properly emphasized in the Bible. It is said there to be for the Lord, to have been purchased by Christ, to be the temple of the Holy Ghost, to be cared for by God, and also it is stated that it will be raised. While this is declared in the Scriptures about the body, how little its dignity, worth and glory are emphasized in Christian teaching! How few sermons are preached upon the subject! How few topics for religious meetings are along this same line! In the light of this neglect, it is not to be wondered at that the body is disparaged, vilified, tolerated by many as a nuisance and used by thousands as a creature of appetite and lust. This indifference and neglect has resulted largely in a misunderstanding as to the true relation of body, mind and soul. In thousands of lives the body rules supreme, while it should be held in subjection—a mere servant to the higher powers of man. The proper relation is the body in subjection to the mind, and the mind and soul in subjection to the soul. The change of the order not only weakens and destroys the body, but also the mind and soul.

That our bodies have a tremendous influence upon our souls cannot be denied. Science proves it. The man is composed of three parts—body, mind, and soul—and yet he is one person. And these three parts are so intimately connected with one another that what affects one affects them all. Science cannot explain in all details how the body, mind and soul are connected, but it does show that they are an undivided scientific fact. That the body influences the soul is proved by Scripture. If it did not, why would so much stress be laid upon the subjection of the body? The Scripture constantly seeks to us to mortify the members of our bodies. Paul says, "I keep under my body and bring it into subjection, lest that by any means when I have preached to others, I myself should be a castaway" (I Cor. ix, 27). This language clearly declares that one of the means through which he might possibly become a castaway was the body. If the supremacy of the body can endanger the eternal life of the soul, it certainly has a tremendous influence upon it. Experience also teaches the influence of the body upon the soul. Daniel and his companions were all the better mentally and spiritually because they had taken care of their bodies. How much more useful many Christians would be if they did not cultivate physical health! Unchecked for bodies become grievous burdens and weighty hindrances. Let us get a proper conception of the relation of the body to Christian living and carry it out in our daily lives.

Bible Readings.—Deut. xxi, 18-21; Prov. x, 1; xiii, 20, 21, 29-33; xxiv, 4, 5; Hos. iv, 6-11; Rom. xii, 12-14; xiv, 21; I Cor. vi, 9-20; ix, 27; II Cor. vi, 16-18; Gal. v, 19-26; Eph. v, 18; Col. iii, 5-8.

The Second Commandment.

We hear less about the second commandment than formerly, but more about the second coming of Christ. For that coming His people "look with uplifted head." To them that day is not so much "a day of anger, day of wrath," as it is a day of triumph, and the day of the Lord's coming. He who is coming will bring His work on earth to a glorious completion. He is not coming only to take vengeance on those who do not believe, but He is coming especially to approve the faithful who have been faithful.—Reformed Church Messenger.

Eternal Love.

The eternal love lieth not, the eternal wisdom knoweth the hearts of men, and, still, to us all crieth very longingly the voice of the Master of Servants, who is faithful to perform all He promises. "Come unto Me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest."—Sunday at Home.

No More Wonderful.

It is no more wonderful that we should live again than that we should live at all.—Rams Horn.

Their Own Salvation.

The saved must save themselves if they would enjoy their own salvation.—United Presbyterian.

Christian Endeavor Briefs.

Twenty-seven Albany Christian Endeavor societies were represented in a recent session of the service in the penitentiary. After the meeting each prisoner was visited in his cell.

The use of all its car sheds has been granted by the Philadelphia Traction company to the Christian Endeavorers of the city for the holding of gospel meetings.

The Congregational Chinese Endeavorers of San Francisco have within recent weeks contributed $17,000 to the international convention fund and $80 to the American board. These Endeavorers support six missionaries in China.

One of Maine's district secretaries is about to go out through his county organizing Christian Endeavor societies and speaking for Christ in places where the name of God is heard only in blasphemy.

The Portland Floating society recently received six comfort bags from a venerable Christian in Andover, Mass., who is 72 years old, but still working earnestly for the Master.

A lad of 13 years, the youngest member of the Presbyterian church of Pueblo, Colo., recently led the Christian Endeavor meeting, and when the organist failed to appear he played the instrument.

The District of Columbia union is considering the advisability of organizing a good literature union in order that the work of this character may be more systematically and thoroughly done.

Thousands of miners throughout the State will no doubt regret to hear that Governor Bradley in order to fulfill his promise made many months ago has allowed Inspector of mines Norwood to retire to private life for a while and to fill his place Mr. Stone has been selected. Of the new Mine Inspector appointed we know nothing, and as to his qualifications for the position we must wait and see, hoping that he may prove worthy of the new office he has been called upon to fill.

The retiring official Mr. Norwood leaves the service of the State bearing not only the good will of the officials under whom he has worked for years past, but also of the coal operators and miners whom he has had the pleasure to come in contact with since he first took charge of the office; and the coal men of this western Kentucky district are indeed sorry to part with him, one whom they not only liked

On account of his superior qualifications for the position he held, but also his social qualities, and they wish him to labor in whatever new field he may enter to labor.

William Teit staffs birds for a living at Berlin; Tanhauser is a butcher; Goethe a barber; Kant keeps an employment bureau.

Be Beautiful. If your blood is bad, your face shows it. It is nature warning you that the condition of the blood needs attention before serious diseases set in. Beauty is blood spots, when you see pimples and liver spots on your face, go at once and secure a bottle of Carlsbad's German Liver Medicines, as they will purify the blood, clear the complexion and bring the rosy flush of health to the faded face and take away the liver spots and pimples. RELIGIOUS NOTES.

Rev. I. A. Teel, of Central City, preached at the Christian church in this place on Sunday evening. He has a regular appointment at Bethlehem church and made the congregation here a special visit, which all seem to have quite appreciated.

Rev. D. S. Edward filled his regular appointment at the Baptist church Saturday night and Sunday. Bad weather interfered with the Saturday night service but he preached to good congregations Sunday.

The District Conference and meetings of the Epworth League and Sunday Schools of the M. E. Church, South, will be held at Slaughter's in April. The date and program will be announced in these columns in good time.

The Christian Endeavor meeting last Sunday evening, conducted by Miss Annie Cowell, was well attended and earnestly entered into by those who took part in the services. The next meeting will be led by Mrs. Myers. See topic and review in adjoining column.

Rev. Lee Hawkins will fill his first appointment as pastor of the General Baptist church on Saturday night and Sunday next.

The St. Louis M. E. Conference has voted to admit women to wait in future conferences as delegates.

The Song of Songs.

I raise my voice here to thank God for the song of songs that teaches us that all the altitudes of courts, all the wealth of the world, are nothing compared with sweet, homely love.—Rev. Lyman Abbott, Congregationalist, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Dogma.

Christianity is accepting Christ and the truth of his teaching. Christianity depends on no dogma, for dogma should be traversed in all the light that modern knowledge and research can furnish.—Rev. C. H. Harrower, Methodist, New York City.

The Labor Problem.

There will be no relief from growing poverty and distress until millions now shut away get back to the soil and become producers. The solution of the labor problem lies at the end of this road.—Rev. A. J. Wells, Unitarian, San Francisco, Cal.

Too Much Realism.

There has come of late a change over the spirit of the novel. Its noble uses have, in far too many instances, been vitiated by shameful abuses. From a beautiful, fertilizing channel it has been turned into a noisome and noxious sewer. Its standards of right and wrong have been abused. It is villany that is now triumphant and honesty that is crushed. It is the voice that is now honored and virtue that is sneered at and insulted. The same healthy view of life no longer attracts the writer, neither is it made attractive for the reader.—Rabbi Joseph Kranskopf, Hebrew, Philadelphia, Pa.

The Use of Talents.

God has given to all qualities and talents which he can use for the progress of his work. Men are not made alike either by nature or by grace. One man's food is another man's poison, and Goliath's armor neither suited David, nor was it needed by him. The one important thing is not the nature of the talents nor the number, but the faithful use of what has been entrusted to our care. Both Moses and Joshua were successful, and so is every one who accepts the work given of God and uses his talents aright. God has the best place for the best man, although men cannot always see until the work is finished.—Rev. H. J. Steward, Presbyterian, Cincinnati, O.

Church and State.

It is for Christians in America to give to the world an example and a proof that we can live in peace and amity as brethren in Christ and children of one Father. Let us be warned by history to keep church and state separate, and to maintain at every hazard liberty of conscience for all. God speed the day when we shall forget the battle of the Boyne and join our forces in the only warfare in which Christians should participate—the warfare against sin. We want to see our children, Catholic and Protestant, marching in friendly unity and using under the banner of our Lord Jesus Christ and the flag of our common country.—Rev. J. V. O'Connor, Catholic, Philadelphia, Pa.

There were good instructions given Sunday. Just see if the ones who gave them will live up to them. You must practice what you preach and stick to what you say.

The African Methodist, of Illinois, are to build a church at Springfield, in memory of Abraham Lincoln. It will be named the Lincoln Memorial Church and will cost $80,000. There will be three memorial windows. The centre one will be dedicated to Lincoln, and the two smaller to Frederick Douglass and John Brown. What might be regarded as the most interesting feature will be the memorial room, in which are to be kept slavers relics of every description—pictures of the great abolition leaders, an auction block, the Lovejoy printing press, the rope which was used in the hanging of John Brown, and whatever else can be gathered.

MORTON'S GAP.

Rheumatism Quickly Cured.

After having been confined to the house for eleven days and paying out $25 in doctor bills without benefit, Mr. Frank Dolson of Sault Ste. Five American Presidents were born in Ohio—Grant, Hayes, Garfield, Harrison and McKinley. All of them were Republicans.

The agricultural credit bank described in our previous article, or its own very successful co-operative building and loan associations, might also establish branches or agencies. Thus one society could have a representative in every town or hamlet in a county or group of counties, bringing its advantages home to depositors and borrowers everywhere. In this way, even in a sparsely settled farming country, a co-operative banking society could get good business to be soundly successful. The agricultural credit banks described in the editorial referred to enable the honest poor to co-operate in other matters. The testimony of hundreds of similar institutions in Europe shows beyond all question that these credit societies have "encouraged thrift and self help and improved the whole moral and material condition of their members. The need is certainly urgent for similar effort at self help in very many farming communities in this country as well as among workers in other occupations. In these times, when the margin of profit is so close, it is more necessary for farmers to be able to conduct their affairs with the utmost economy, for which purpose capital at reasonable rates of interest is an imperative necessity.

"Whatever opinions are entertained concerning the standard of values, there should be unanimity in an effort to perfect a sound plan of co-operative banking which will enable farmers to help themselves. How great this need is can hardly be exaggerated. Taking the United States as a whole, we doubt if one-tenth of our farmers use banks or are within convenient reach of banking accommodation. Without it they cannot employ credit in the true sense. Yet nine-tenths of the volume of business transacted by other people is done with credit instruments. But the average farmer is able to use only the credit offered by the crossroads store, which 'milk' him to the tune of 15 to 40 per cent by taking his price in trade at far below market prices, changing him from what the farmer buys, and on top of this exacting exorbitant interest.

"No legitimate business can stand this sort of 'accommodation,' certainly not agriculture. The evil exists whether prices are high or low, currency plenty or scarce. The deeper one delves into this matter the plainer it appears that, whatever is done about monetary standards, better banking accommodations—that is, better facilities for the use of credit instruments, such as checks, drafts, etc.—are vital to the farmer's welfare. Nor can he, need he or will he pay more for these facilities than do those in other business."

A Good Example.

The action of the other Republicans in deciding to make the money issue paramount sets a good example to the good Democrats, the Baltimore News (Dem.) says: "They must keep themselves in readiness to support, not merely by assenting vote, but by active work and friendly counsel, any effort which may be honestly put forward by the incoming administration to place the finances of the country upon a sound basis. They would stultify their course in the contest of last year if they allow party considerations to have so much as a feather's weight in comparison with their duty upon this issue of transcendent moment."

From Cripple Creek.

After the big fire in Cripple Creek, I took a very severe cold and tried many remedies without help, the cold only becoming more settled. After using three small bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, both the cough and cold left me, and in this high altitude it takes a meritorious Cough Remedy to do any good.—G. B. Henderson, editor Daily Advertiser. For sale at 25 and 50c per bottle by St. Bernard Drug Store, Earlington, Ben T. Robinson, Mortons Gap; George King, St. Charles.

In these times, when the margin of profit is so close, it is more necessary for farmers to be able to conduct their affairs with the utmost economy, for which purpose capital at reasonable rates of interest is an imperative necessity.

"Whatever opinions are entertained concerning the standard of values, there should be unanimity in an effort to perfect a sound plan of co-operative banking which will enable farmers to help themselves. How great this need is can hardly be exaggerated. Taking the United States as a whole, we doubt if one-tenth of our farmers use banks or are within convenient reach of banking accommodation. Without it they cannot employ credit in the true sense. Yet nine-tenths of the volume of business transacted by other people is done with credit instruments. But the average farmer is able to use only the credit offered by the crossroads store, which 'milk' him to the tune of 15 to 40 per cent by taking his price in trade at far below market prices, changing him from what the farmer buys, and on top of this exacting exorbitant interest.

"No legitimate business can stand this sort of 'accommodation,' certainly not agriculture. The evil exists whether prices are high or low, currency plenty or scarce. The deeper one delves into this matter the plainer it appears that, whatever is done about monetary standards, better banking accommodations—that is, better facilities for the use of credit instruments, such as checks, drafts, etc.—are vital to the farmer's welfare. Nor can he, need he or will he pay more for these facilities than do those in other business."

A Good Example.

The action of the other Republicans in deciding to make the money issue paramount sets a good example to the good Democrats, the Baltimore News (Dem.) says: "They must keep themselves in readiness to support, not merely by assenting vote, but by active work and friendly counsel, any effort which may be honestly put forward by the incoming administration to place the finances of the country upon a sound basis. They would stultify their course in the contest of last year if they allow party considerations to have so much as a feather's weight in comparison with their duty upon this issue of transcendent moment."

From Cripple Creek.

After the big fire in Cripple Creek, I took a very severe cold and tried many remedies without help, the cold only becoming more settled. After using three small bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, both the cough and cold left me, and in this high altitude it takes a meritorious Cough Remedy to
